"In my 30 years of consulting in organisations I have been on many self development programmes – but what struck me as unique was Jennifer's generosity with her training materials and sharing of her personal experience. Not only do you get the course materials but also Jennifer's in house handouts with the benefit of her years of applying hypnotherapy in the real world of people's day to day experiences. This really enables you to relax and "experience" the training secure in the knowledge that all of the "learning" is captured in her extensive material. There is also the added bonus of understanding the practical aspects of how to set up a hypnotherapy business – very practical and enlightening. It was an extremely useful 10 days of training which prepared me for immediate use with clients."

Philip Merry, Founder & CEO – Global Leadership Academy

Your Certified Instructor and Grey Matter Network Founder
Jennifer C. S. Norris-Nielsen, MGC, MSc, CI(NGH), CH

Jennifer Norris-Nielsen is founder of Grey Matter Network, a successful hypnotherapy business based in Singapore, with work expanding around the world. Her full-time practice and business acumen has made Jennifer the hypnotherapist's hypnotherapy trainer, using real world techniques that work. Canadian-born Jennifer brings over 15 years in counselling, consulting and training to her Professional Certification Program for Hypnotherapists.

In addition to being a Certified Instructor and Hypnotherapist with the National Guild of Hypnotists (NGH), Jennifer's dynamic combination of education and experience allows her to confidently guide and support individuals starting their journey in the exciting and rewarding field of hypnosis.

Jennifer wrote her first Masters on areas of subconscious use in business, marketing and research, and continues to expand the concept of improving the 'corporate mind' through group and executive programs.

Her experience as a Counsellor has expanded her insight on various helping and therapeutic methods. As a Trainer for Hypnotherapists, she has abridged this vast knowledge to present her students with the most relevant approaches to support positive change with the subconscious mind.

Jennifer is also a Board Certified Clinical Hypnotherapist (NBH), a Master Hypnotist (BHC), a certified Sports Hypnotist and is certified in HypnoBirthing® who trains Practitioners in the Basics of Hypnosis for Birth. As a result of her work in service, she was nominated for the Spirit of Enterprise Award 2006.

Jennifer is author of Three Hypnotic Powers: To Enhance and Enrich Your Child's Life. This Parent's Guide helps to actively explain the workings of a child's mind, and assists in developing self-worth and ability through exercises using the power of Words, Perceptions and Feelings, and the Imagination.

As a Certified Instructor (NGH), Jennifer focuses both on the needs of her clients as well as the development and maturation of this expanding profession within Asia, and continues to work with individuals, groups and companies to increasingly make subconscious work the most relevant way to make positive change.

In the years that I've been doing Hypnotherapy, I've seen 'miraculous' changes in people for good, helped them transition to better health and happiness and seen them transform themselves to better suit their personal goals and wishes. I've also benefitted personally from being a part of positive change, exploring and discovering new ways of working and living better.

I love training others to be catalysts for change through Hypnosis. It is such a powerful yet easy tool to use. People who take this course tend to be very special people – and when provided with skills and experience they become epicenters for amazing transformations for themselves, their families and friends, in their business and personal life, and for those they support through this work.
